If you thought that the McCleary decision “fixed” basic education funding for children in the State of Washington, this presentation is for you.

If the terms on this page are vaguely familiar yet still confusing, this presentation is for you.

Citizens for Shoreline Schools is excited to welcome Thomas Ahearne, lead plaintiffs’ counsel in McCleary v the State of Washington - the largest public education funding lawsuit in our state - who will explain what the McCleary decision means for students and communities, what “full funding” means, what kind of progress has been made, and what to expect next.

This engaging, informative presentation is a must-see for all Washington taxpayers, whether you have children in the system or not!
